

Union Miners Will Remain Out Until Operators Sign Wage Contract, Lewis Says

LEWIS OPPOSES U. S. INTERVENTION IN THE STRUGGLE

Present Conditions in Coal Fields Caused Solely by Operators, He Tells House Labor Committee

100% Effective

Great Central Competitive Field Crippled by Walk-Out, Both Sides Agree

STRIKE SITUATION AT A GLANCE

(By the Associated Press.)

Both operators and miners stand firm in the country-wide strike which has closed more than 6,000 mines, leaving over 500,000 men idle. Operators claim many non-union miners who were idle Saturday in observance of the anniversary of the eight-hour day have returned to work.

Both sides agree, however, that the strike is practically 100 per cent. effective in the great central competitive field of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania.

Operators assert that many pits are in operation in West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama. Kansas operators yesterday agreed to return to the wage scale of the present agreement, for $3.60 a day, instead of the $7.50 named in the present agreement. The mine owners claim victory for striking anthracite miners through the offer of several independent companies to grant the miners' wage demands if the men would return to work immediately.

President John L. Lewis of the miners told the house labor committee yesterday that miners were prepared to "stay out indefinitely" if the operators sign up a basic wage contract for the central competitive field.

Washington, April 3.—Discussing before the House Labor committee today reasons why 600,000 anthracite and bituminous coal miners stopped work last Saturday in the United States and Canada, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and official leader of the strike, declared that the anthracite workers had gone out merely to await the result of peaceful negotiations with their employers over a new wage scale, but that the bituminous workers were out indefinitely to obtain the signing of a basic wage contract. The bituminous workers, Mr. Lewis declared before the committee, were considering the Bland resolution to direct appointment by the President of a commission to investigate the coal industry. "They are out today indefinitely," he said, "until the operators of the central competitive field of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and western Pennsylvania sign a basic wage contract according to their pledge, and which the other coal mining districts of the United States can settle."

National Wage Scale.

In reply to questions by Representative Black, Democrat, Texas, as to why the union would not settle with operators in states and districts where work could be resumed under satisfactory conditions, Mr. Lewis insisted that the union would not permit the operators to fix wages locally without a knowledge of the wage scale their competitors would have.

Although showing that a national wage scale was the first essential, Mr. Lewis told Chairman Nelson of the labor committee if Congress or any body else could get "a representative number of operators from all the central mines into a conference, those controlling a substantial tonnage, I shall advise the United Mine Workers—and I think they will take my advice to negotiate with them for a new contract."

Government Ownership "Impossible."

Although the united mine workers stood for national supervision of coal mines, with adequate assurance to property owners involved, he claimed government ownership as "impossible" at this time.

"I believe Congress could set up a bureau to investigate, at least, and give the facts which might determine a policy."

Mr. Lewis paid his respects to what he termed "a general financial demand for liquidation of labor and deflation of wages" by declaring that there was "nothing constructive in the business viewpoint today, and depression cannot be overcome by cutting wages and further lowering the purchasing power of labor." The non-union operators, especially those of West Virginia, he said were "ashamed of industry, who are lamenting industrial difficulties that they might get high prices."

"To state that in this do-nothing policy of business law is to issue in 1922, the time and place of holding such meeting is referred to a committee of two operators and two miners from each state herein represented, together with the international officers of the United Mine Workers' organization."

"This arrangement was a part of the agreement equally as binding as any other provision and was duly executed in writing through the attachment of signatures of the operators' and mine workers' representatives. It was a pledge morally as binding as any bond or promissory note or other agreement in business transaction executed in the country. The operators of the coal fields signed the agreement in good faith but we now find that they contumaciously refuse to live up to their agreement. On two occasions since December, 1919, the operators have been formally invited by the mine workers' representatives to meet in joint conference at a designated time and place for the purpose indicated in the agreement. On each occasion our invitation has been refused and our efforts have been in vain. P. H. Penn of Indiana, who for nearly two decades has been the chief spokesman for the coal operators of the central competitive field, in a recent public interview said:

"I cannot deny that our refusal to meet is a violation of our agreement."

Strike Only Alternative.

"In the face of such brazen and uncompromising attitude on the part of the coal operators, the mine workers had no alternative but to quit their work when the agreement expired and await the making of a new agreement, fixing their schedules of wages and governing their conditions of employment. It is recognized by all thoughtful men that in the end an agreement must be effected through the accredited representatives of the United Mine Workers of America and it is unfortunate that hundreds of thousands of men must be withdrawn from industry to the detriment of the social and economic well-being of our country before a joint conference can be held and an agreement reached. The responsibility for this condition must rest clearly upon the shoulders of the coal operators, who have flagrantly and arrogantly refused to carry out their obligations and meet the mine workers in a joint conference."

"Despite the refusal of our previous attempts to secure a meeting for the purpose of negotiating a new agreement, the mine workers are still ready to meet at any time such a meeting is possible."

UNION LEADERS IN NEW YORK CLAIM FIRST STRIKE VICTORY

New York, April 3.—Union leaders claimed the first victory for the striking anthracite miners here today when they announced several independent companies had offered to grant all of the 19 wage demands if the men would return to their jobs immediately.

The offer was first made by William Beck, president of the Grove Hill Mining company of Peckville, Pa., who came to New York for that purpose, according to William J. Brennan of Scranton, Pa., president of District No. 1, United Mine Workers of America.

It was followed, he said, by similar offers from "other small independent mine operators in the Scranton area."

That this signified a breach in the ranks of organized mine owners was declared by the president of the Anthracite Operators' association. They branded owners who had made such offers as "independent operators of wagon mines whose production is a negligible factor in the outcome of the strike." The Grove Hill company is not even affiliated with the organization of independent operators, they asserted.

"Such offers will not win the strike and will have no effect on the stand for a reduction in wages taken by the Operators' association," said W. V. Inglis, president of the Glen Alden Coal company of Scranton, and a member of the miners' and operators' subcommittee on wage contract negotiations, in session here.

Union leaders were optimistic, however, according to Phillip Murray, vice president of the United Mine Workers' international organization, the willingness of these small operators to continue production on a basis of higher wages to the miners is ample proof that there is no reason why big operators employing thousands of men should refuse to accede to our demands."

Operators charged that union pickets bearing strike literature were inciting non-union bituminous fields in Pennsylvania and exhorting workmen to lay down their tools.

To this district leaders here retorted that I. W. U. literature was being circulated in strike-stricken areas

TWO MEN INJURED IN INDIANA DISORDERS

Terre Haute, Ind., April 3.—Two men were injured, one probably fatally, in disorders in the Clinton mining fields, according to reports reaching here tonight.

Harry Davis, proprietor of a soft drink establishment at Syndicate, was fired on from ambush while on his way home this morning. He is in a hospital with bullet wounds in the head, abdomen and both legs. Forty shots were fired at Davis it is reported.

An automobile, bearing several strangers, was seen leaving Syndicate shortly after the attack, for which no reason is given in reports.

Elmer Williams, a miner at Shepherdsville, received a scalp wound yesterday when he attempted to interrupt a negro reported to be terrorizing the mining camp with a gun. The negro escaped.

MEXICO'S DEBTS TO BE DISCUSSED

Huerta Will Meet International Committee of Bankers if Plans Materialize

New York, April 3.—The Mexican government, through its local financial agency, today announced that plans for a meeting between Adolfo de la Huerta, Mexican minister of finance, and the representatives of the International Committee of Bankers on Mexico have practically been completed. Questions with reference to the Mexican government's external indebtedness will be discussed.

A meeting of the British and French sections of the committee will be held in Paris upon the arrival there on April 18 of Thomas W. Lamont, chairman of the American section of the committee. The British and French delegates then will return to New York with Mr. Lamont for the meeting here with Senor de la Huerta, the latter part of May.

The International Committee of Bankers, in a statement confirming the acceptance of an invitation to join the conference, declared:

"It is in the belief of such a conference, participated in by all the interests concerned, will go far in the working out of a solution of pending questions with reference to the Mexican government's external indebtedness."

Commenting on the conference, J. P. Morgan said:

"If a man has debts and honestly wants to pay them, there is always a way to meet that fellow half way. I don't see why the same does not apply in this case."

FIERCE BLAZE IN OKLAHOMA REFINERY

Three Huge Storage Tanks Afire, Threatening Destruction of Million Dollar Plant

Sapulpa, Okla., April 3.—Fire which early today caused an estimated damage to the Sapulpa Refining company of more than $200,000, halted train service over the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad and to the south-east, and destroyed a high ammunition train. The fire was still burning fiercely tonight among three 55,000-barrel capacity crude oil storage tanks at the company's plant a mile from here.

The third tank was threatening to boil over, despite efforts of firemen. The entire refinery, valued at more than $1,000,000, would be destroyed should this occur, were expressed by officials.

The second tank boiled over this afternoon, sending floods of burning oil over the San Francisco railroad tracks and the Sapulpa-Tulsa highway. The heat was so intense that the rails were twisted and it was not until tonight that the flames, which had spread over several acres, had been controlled sufficiently to permit temporary repairing of the tracks.

The fire began yesterday when one of the tanks was struck by lightning

LABOR BOARD IGNORES RATES

Considers Only Elements Named in Transportation Act During R. R. Wage Hearing

INJUNCTION CASE UP

Board Must "Close Shop" if Pennsylvania Wins Its Suit, Official Declares

Chicago, April 3.—The U. S. labor board will not bargain away the nation's railway wages for lower rates, Vice chairman, E. W. Hooper declared during the wage hearing before the board today.

"The board will consider only the elements named in the transportation act, on which wages are to be based," said Mr. Hooper.

He said the board understood that the labor board will not put itself into the position of trading wages for prospective or already revised reductions of rates, "the acting chairman continued. "The railroads have reiterated before the board their desire for lower wages which they promise to translate into lower freight and passenger rates."

"The employees have followed that question up. For what purpose it was introduced I do not know, but, hereafter, I believe discussion of this subject should be strictly limited."

Mr. Hooper pointed out that the lack of the board is clearly set forth in the transportation act and is no way dependent upon the rate-fixing operations of the Interstate Commerce commission.

Pennsylvania Case Up

Chicago, April 3.—Declaration that if the Pennsylvania railroad was upheld in its suit to enjoin the United States Railroad Labor board rendering decisions, the board "must close up shop and transfer all its proceedings" to the federal court, was made by Blackburn Esterlin, special assistant to the district attorney of the United States today when the Pennsylvania injunction case came before Federal Judge Page.

He contended that the jurisdiction of the court did not extend over the board, that body being an administrative arm of the United States government. He reviewed the history of the controversy after citing four cases in which the transportation act, which in Pennsylvania attacks as unconstitutional, "had successfully withstood attacks in the supreme court."

He contended that the Pennsylvania had recognized the law and the board by reason of asking the federal national government to act, which in Pennsylvania attacks as unconstitutional, "had successfully withstood attacks in the supreme court."

YOUTH BELIEVED HELD BY GYPSIES

Authorities to Search Argentina for Lad Who Disappeared in May, 1915

Jersey City, April 2.—Information given several days ago in Philadelphia by John Greely, captain of the Gypsies, led police authorities here today to believe that James Glass, who in May, 1915, disappeared at Greely, Pa., is held by a Gypsy band in Argentina.

Captain James J. Rooney reported to the commissioner of public safety that Greely told him he had recently returned from the Argentine, where his son, with two other youths, one adopted and the other kidnapped, were living.

Cruise's gypsy band was encamped near Greely when Jimmy Glass disappeared and was kept under surveillance for several years. They wandered into Mexico when, Cruise said, he and several others moved to Argentina.

Commissioner of Public Safety John Bentley said today that he would request federal authorities to conduct a search in the South American republic for the missing boy.

Mrs. Glass, who is home in this city, was visiting on a farm in Greely in 1915. She left James on the walk one day while she went into the Greely post office and when she came out he had disappeared.

NURSE AGAIN COLLAPSES

Olivia Stone Faints When Former Cincinnati Man Denies Her Story That She Never Met Him

New York, April 3.—Miss Olivia M. P. Stone, graduate nurse, collapsed today for the second time since she was put on trial in Brooklyn charged with the murder of Ellis G. Kinkadee, former corporation counsel of Cincinnati. Although she was revived, physicians said she was in no condition to stand the strain and court was adjourned until tomorrow.

United States attorney, James Clark of Cincinnati was on the stand when Miss Stone fainted. In spite of her insistent denials that she had never seen him, Mr. Clark insisted she had come into his office in 1919 to ask for the arrest of Kinkadee under the Mann Act.

Dr. Annette M. Balamon of Brooklyn, a specialist on women's diseases, who said a "temporary explosion in Miss Stone's brain probably was responsible for the shooting, cross-examination testified that, although Miss Stone was of a neurotic temperament, her history gave no grounds for believing she had shown traces of insanity before.

BINGHAMTON MURDERER TO BE SENTENCED WEDNESDAY

Binghamton, April 3.—Sentencing of Harry Santanella to death in the electric chair for the murder of Antonio Flatto in this city on January 4 was deferred until Wednesday by Justice Theodore Tuthill in supreme court today.

When Santanella was arraigned for sentence his attorney, Arthur J. Rudland, moved for a new trial on nine different grounds. Justice Tuthill took the motion under advisement and announced that he would give his decision on Wednesday.

LEADER MONDELL FAVORS NAVY STRENGTH OF 65,000

Washington, April 3.—Representative Mondell of Wyoming, the Republican leader, announced today that he would support the passage of the navy bill soon to be reported, providing for an enlisted personnel of 65,000.

The views of the leader were expressed after a conference with President Harding and after frequent talks with Chairman Kelley of the subcommittee on appropriations, which is framing the bill. Upholding the contention of Chairman Kelley that the 65,000 maximum would give the force sufficient to man 18 battleships, the number fixed by the arms conference, Mr. Mondell said the number would keep in fighting trim sufficient auxiliary craft to maintain the 6-8-3 ratio.

ONE BIG UNION BUSY IN TEXTILE STRIKE

At Mass Meeting, Leader Seeks to Get Men to Repudiate United Textile Workers

Lawrence, Mass., April 3.—The One Big Union today injected its struggle within a struggle in the textile strike situation. At a mass meeting of its followers and others held on the common, Den Legere, leader of the O. B. U., proposed a resolution repudiating the leadership of the United Textile Workers of America and calling on the O. B. U. to organize a general committee to conduct the strike of operatives from cotton and worsted mills that have cut wages.

The resolution was preceded by criticism of the refusal of President Thomas E. McMahon of the U. T. W. to cooperate with Legere and the O. B. U. in the strike's direction, and when the resolution was proposed Legere recited his grievances against the older organization. His hearers, most of them apparently strikers, voted only by a slim margin in which the resolution and Legere announced plans for forming a general strike committee.

The United Textile Workers, having cast off the O. B. U. without any connection with its strike activities here, has no further interest in the campaign for membership. President McMahon said in a statement after the common meeting. The action represented the vote of only a small proportion of those on strike, he asserted. The U. T. W. is now organizing a strike committee, which will win completed, will comprise five members of each craft involved, he said.

BUREAU SHAKE-UP IS 'EFFICIENCY' PLAN

No Charges Involving Dishonesty of Directors and 28 Other Officials of Department

Washington, April 2.—Reorganization of the bureau of engraving and printing through the executive order issued last Friday by President Harding removing James L. Wilson, its director, and 28 other officials, was explained today on the grounds of "efficiency" by Secretary Mellon. No charges involving the dishonesty of the discharged bureau employees have been made, it was stated.

Mr. Mellon's explanation of the sweeping changes made in the administrative personnel of the bureau was the first official action since the announcement of the order at the White House. Meanwhile, speculation has been rife in official circles over the sudden removal of the officials and resolutions were introduced in both the senate and house today seeking to elicit further information from the President.

Senator Caraway, Democrat of Arkansas, introduced a resolution calling upon President Harding to inform the senate, if not in compliance with the interest, as to the causes of the action taken in the bureau and under what authority of law the changes were made. Representative Moore, Democrat of Virginia, at the same time introduced a resolution for the appointment of a special house committee to investigate the changes.

Efforts to obtain a personal explanation for their discharge were made by Mr. Wilmett and a delegation of former bureau officials who called at the White House, but without appointment and, therefore, failed to see the president who was out. They left a memorandum stating the object of their visit and indicated they would return any time Mr. Harding would see them, declaring they wanted to know why they were discharged and have the opportunity of meeting any charges which might have been made against them. They asserted they were at a complete loss to know why they were discharged.

DAIRYMEN'S LEAGUE IS WELL SATISFIED

Practically All Milk Sold and Producers Will Receive Pool Price, Announcement Says

Utica, April 2.—In spite of its controversy with some of the metropolitan milk dealers, there was little or no interruption of the regular market yesterday or today, the Dairymen's League Cooperative association here fully won the principle it staked its claim on.

Practically all the league milk is either sold to regular buyers or taken care of in the association's plants, the statement declares, and according to the principles of the pooling plan, no matter how the products of milk is marketed, all will receive the pool price.

"Farmers are therefore in a position with their milk sold and all taken care of on an equitable basis, and continue the controversy until they have fully won the principle it staked its claim on."

It denies that papers have been served on the association in the injunction proceedings alleged to have been brought against the Dairymen's League Cooperative association and the association to restrain the former from discriminating against producers not members of the association.

LAST OF AMERICA'S WAR DEAD HONORED

Sorrowing Thousands Pay Respects to 1,065 Soldiers Who Made Supreme Sacrifice

New York, April 3.—Arrival of the last of America's 70,000 war dead was commemorated in Brooklyn Sunday.

One body, that of Private Charles W. Graves of Rome, Ga., symbolized for the time the bodies of the 1,065 soldiers, which were returned from France last week on the United States troop ship Cambal.

Amid the hushed vastness of an army pier, his silent comrades, in long, unbroken ranks of flag-draped caskets, maintained the hush of the dead, while the sorrowing thousands, of high and low degree, paid the last respects of a grateful nation.

The body of Private Graves had been chosen to receive the honors of the day because he was the last of the troop ship was the last to be taken from the hold and placed on his native soil.

House Adopts Resolution Calling for Conference on Government's Genoa Policy

Premier Defends

Tells Critics It Is Impossible to Restore Europe Without Economic Parleys

(By Associated Press)

London, April 3.—The House of Commons tonight, after a debate, adopted by the substantial majority of 278 Premier Lloyd George's resolution calling for a conference on the government policy in the coming economic conference at Genoa. The vote was 372 to 91.

Prior to this, the house, by a vote of 379 to 84, rejected an amendment proposed by John Robert Clynes, laborite, which while approving an international economic and financial conference, declared that the government was not competent to represent the country at such a conference and did not have the confidence of the country.

Very Satisfactory Result.

This result is regarded as exceedingly satisfactory for the prime minister, as the combined laborites and independent liberals number about 100 and they "die hard." About 50 might have been expected to oppose the premier's resolution.

The prime minister's statement in the house tonight was a statement of confidence in the government's Genoa policy was noteworthy inasmuch as it dwelt only lightly upon the political crisis at home and because it endorsed the French policy toward Russia, although Mr. Lloyd George himself displayed much sympathy for an entirely conciliatory policy toward Russia, and further, it starts an accommodation with the Soviet government. At least by waiting it might eventually be necessary to deal with a still more irreconcilable or militaristic regime which might embroil the whole of Europe.

While emphasizing that nothing could be gained by waiting for the overall of the Soviet administration, the prime minister accepted the French standpoint demanding guarantees with respect to the stability of obligations and stipulating a period of probation of six months of a year, but less if Russia gave the necessary guarantees before full recognition was accorded.

Perhaps the most interesting of Mr. Lloyd George's proposals was that exchanges should be established on a more maintainable figure, but no details were given as to how he proposed to effect this, and that it might be attained by some form of international cooperation and pressure.

The premier went into the two things that he said must be considered in dealing with the reparations problem—the danger of precipitating a crisis which would not be confined to Germany if payments beyond her power were insisted upon, and the necessity of not judging Germany's ultimate capacity to pay, but to judge her capacity to the conditions which properly be judged not at Genoa, but by the machinery of the treaty, under which France could not undergo her right to have an adjudication.

Premier Addresses Opponents.

Addressing his opponents, especially the labor party, the premier advised them not to tie their hands in advance by adversely criticizing conferences, adding that this government would not last forever.

Mr. Lloyd George here uttered his warning, "To whoever succeeds us," that they would find further conferences necessary for the restoration of Europe and then took up the question of international trade, and the problem of restoring its machinery. Dealing with this point, he contended that Great Britain was 30 per cent. more dependent upon international trade than any other country and that he contemplated pre-war machinery of that trade had been shattered, as it had been, by a bomb.

Stressing the necessity of urging the nations to balance their budget as one means of stabilizing exchange, he declared that above all, it was essential that there be real peace among the nations.

"This leads me," the premier went on, "to the most controversial issue which will come before the Genoa conference—peace in Russia and peace with Russia." Declaring that Russia must recognize as a test of her fitness for entering into the community of nations all the conditions imposed upon and expected of civilized communities, Mr. Lloyd George contended that this was a question in which legitimate producers would perhaps cloud reason—a situation in which the doctrines and demeanor of the Bolshevik had caused wrath and just anger, making exceedingly difficult the exercise of a composed judgment.

Declaring that constant rumors that Russia was preparing huge armies to overrun Europe, etc., Mr. Lloyd George argued that it was impossible to learn what was happening in "that unpennable jungle," but that if trade were opened with Russia the foreign traders there would know what would not stay if the rumors were true.

Schenectady, April 2.—First Lieutenant Elmer O'Brien, assistant director of gymnastics and physical education at the United States Military Academy at West Point, has been appointed to become the athletic director at Union College, it was announced today. He will begin his duties in August.

HAS FIRST BIBLE PRINTED IN U. S.

Newberry Library in Chicago Also Possesses Parliament Act Ordering It.

TRANSLATED INTO RED TONGUE

Government Ordered Collection in England and Wales to Defray Cost of Propagating Gospel in New England.

Chicago.—The first Bible printed in the United States sprang directly from a national solicitation of funds in England and Wales in a manner somewhat akin to the Liberty loan drives, according to George B. Utley, librarian of the Newberry library here. The library has both the first American Bible and the act of the English parliament which led to it.

The Bible was a translation into the tongue of the Massachusetts Indians. For years John Eliot, a Puritan fleeing from persecution, who landed 11 years after the Mayflower, had been sending back to England reports about missionary success among the Indians.

Ordered by Parliament. When the Puritans came into power he found a friendly government, and in 1649, within six months after Charles I was executed, when Cromwell was supreme, parliament passed "An act for promoting and propagating the Gospel in New England." The act created a corporation consisting of 10 Londoners, which thereafter carried on the work.

But more especially it ordered "a general collection in all the countries, cities, towns and parishes of England and Wales." It required the ministers to read the act to their congregations and instructed them, with others, to "go with all convenient speed from house to house to every one of the inhabitants of the said parishes and places respectively, and to take the subscription of every such person in a schedule to be presented to them for that purpose and accordingly at the same time to collect and gather the same."

To Educate Red Brother. Better education of the Indians was also named among the purposes of the corporation. Twenty-five years later there were four Indian towns with schools in Massachusetts and "the praying Indians" there numbered 4,000.

This collection ordered by parliament brought in about $11,000. It is reported.

Fourteen years later, in 1663, Eliot furnished the first complete Bible printed in the western hemisphere. Its title page bears the lines: "At the charge and with the consent of the Corporation in England for the Promotion of the Gospel Amongst the Indians in New England."

The place of printing was Cambridge, Mass., where 23 years before Eliot had helped compile the Bay Psalm book, the first book to come out of the press, in what is now the United States.

Long Thumb—Strong Will. If the top joint of your thumb is long, it shows that you have good will power. Well-developed reasoning faculties are possessed by those people who have thumbs the second joints of which are long. Thumbs that work easily are owned by careless, happy-go-lucky, spendthrift individuals. A stiff, firm-jointed thumb, however, shows that the person is keen, tactful, self-possessed, and cautious—the sort of man who will get on in the world.

Much Resin in Hawaiian Tree. When you pull a piece of bark off the chunky old monkey-pod tree, reports a traveler recently in Hawaii, you smell so much resin that it seems to you that the hot sun alone would be enough to set the bark flaming like a torch. It makes a tall, pointed flame, like the flame on a big candle. Fire lurks in the tree somewhere, that is certain. They say that at one time the old Hawaiians tapped the tree as Americans do a sugar maple.

COAL MINE FATALITIES DROP

Decrease of 26 Per Cent Shown in United States Bureau Report for January.

Washington, D. C.—Fatalities at coal mines during January declined about 26 per cent from January a year ago, according to an announcement today by the bureau of mines. The total last month was 140 against 197 last year. Based on an estimated coal production of 43,955,000 tons last month, the death rate was 3.32 per million tons mined, compared with 4.13 for January 1921.

Compared with the accident record for January last year, there was a reduction last January of thirteen fatalities in West Virginia, eight in Kentucky, seven in the bituminous mines of Pennsylvania, four in Wyoming, three in Indiana and three in Iowa. Alabama showed an increase of five and Ohio two. A reduction of seven is shown in the number killed at the anthracite mines in Pennsylvania.

Plant Has Peculiar Property. Pitcher plants catch in their "pitchers" not only insects and spiders in immense numbers, but also, occasionally mollusks and crustaceans and even tree frogs and lizards. Some species of insects are adapted for living with impunity in the pitchers, where they feed on the remains of the captured insects.

Travelling Hint.

If there are bottles to go in your bag or trunk and you fear the corks will come out, heat your sealing wax in a flame and run the melted part around the cork where it meets the glass. Thus it will be held in tightly and only a smart twist is necessary to remove it when you arrive at your destination.

Weasel Is Lightning-Like. Swiftiness of motion is a requisite of many wild animals of the smaller kind. It is one of their most important means of defense. Perhaps no known animal possesses this in a higher degree than the weasel. He is the "lightning flash" among all animal life.

RECORD DAY ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Approximately 1,300,000 Shares Change Hands; Motors, Steels, Oils, Equipments Lead

New York, April 3.—The volume of operations on the stock exchange today established a high record for the year, approximately 1,300,000 shares changing hands.

Advices from the chief centers of trade and industry were encouraging, indicating an increase in railway tonnage, gains in various lines of business and a pronounced extension of investment purchases. Coalers were not affected by the miners' strike, the few changes in that division being mainly upward.

Motors, independent steels, oils and equipments were the outstanding features at not gains of one and one-half to four and one-fourth points. Studebaker led the entire list and United States Steel asserted much of its old-time prominence. Mexican and California issues were foremost of the oils. Unclassified stocks, such as California Packing, Wilson & Company and Davison Chemical, were substantially higher. Excepting Canadian Pacific, Pennsylvania and Delaware & Hudson, the inquiry for rails centered in the preferred stocks of Chicago & Alton, St. Paul & Toledo and St. Louis & Western. At extreme gains of one to two points. Coppers and the general metals list alone were heavy and sluggish.

The stimulating feature of today's active bond market, which almost kept pace with record dealings in stocks, was the speedy absorption of $60,000,000 New York Central, five per cent bonds. These were oversubscribed within an hour.

Among liberties, the 3½ established a new maximum at 98.58, but the second 4½ eased, the entire series showing mixed gains and losses at the close.

Many junior rails of the western and southern division were materially higher and local tractions also displayed irregular strength.

CORSET STAY KILLS WOMAN

Bone Pierces Heart When Girl Falls While Skiing in Swiss Alps.

Geneva, Switzerland.—A whalebone corset stay caused the death of a Zurich young woman while skiing. She was making a steep descent with a party of friends when she fell over a ledge, landing 20 feet below in deep snow. Her companions attached no importance to the fall, but on reaching her found the bone had pierced her heart.

This is the second accident of the kind in Switzerland this winter.

For Sale—Poultry and dairy farm, fifty acres, only three miles from excellent Oneonta market and High school. District school nearby. One-half mile from state road. Attractive nine-room house, furnace, running water and large veranda. Forty apple trees, three hen houses with cement floor. CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG
In her captivating new photodrama—
"Straight From Paris"

From the brilliant Story by Sada Cowan—Author of "Hush"—"Why Change Your Wife" and other cinema successes.

THE management of this theatre takes pleasure in announcing the presentation of Clara Kimball Young in "STRAIGHT FROM PARIS," Miss Young's most brilliant picture in years—a photodramatic event and a treat for the playgoer loving public of this city.

Never, in any production, has Miss Young been so beautiful—never in greater dramatic power, and never has there been such a succession of exquisite scenes, gorgeous gowns and lavish in-vasture. A fascinating story of the thrilling rise of a plain milliner to dizzy social heights, with its threatened crash to earth, and the attendant expose of the snob aristocrats presents a story as dazzling as it is dramatic. A beautiful picture beautifully done.

WONDERS OF AMERICA
By T. T. MAXEY
G. Western Newspaper Union, CZAR OF SMOKESTACK WORLD

THERE are some smokestacks that are unbelievably big—too big to be true—but the one recently completed for the reduction works of the Anaconda Copper Mining company at Anaconda, Montana, sets up a new world record.

The concrete base on which this gigantic structure stands required 118 cars of crushed rock, 50 cars of sand and 20,590 sacks of cement to complete and weighs approximately 9,250 tons.

The stack proper is constructed of specially shaped blocks or bricks about two and one-half times the size of the ordinary brick and it took 2,464,672 of these larger units to complete the job.

To make the mortar necessary to lay these brick required 77 cars of sand, 37 cars of fire clay and 41,350 sacks of cement. The estimated weight of the brick work is 23,310 tons.

The exterior diameter of this smoke-and-gas elevator is 86 feet at the base, while the interior diameter at the top tapers down to 60 feet. The wall is 22 inches thick at the top. The maximum height of the stack and its base is 585 feet 1½ inches.

Smokestacks of extreme size are desirable and in fact necessary, in connection with certain classes of mining operations, to prevent the destruction of vegetation by the extensive quantities of strong and poisonous fumes and gases which result from the reducing operations.

Museum Curator Declares Crooked Officials in Mesopotamia Were Thrown Into River.

Philadelphia.—The systems of city government during the Sumerian civilization in Mesopotamia 5,000 years ago were probably not much different from the present, and better, if anything, declared Dr. Leon Legrain, curator of the University of Pennsylvania museum. "Cheating contractors and crooked officials were tried briefly and thrown into the river," he added.

An elaborate banking system with a reserve bank comparable to our own today, a postal system with a parcel post branch, and circulating libraries which distributed books in the form of clay tablets were features of that day, Doctor Legrain declared.

DEATH OF EDWARD KING

Former Resident of Cooperstown Passes Away at Home in New York City—Funeral at Cooperstown.

Cooperstown, April 3.—Edward King, former resident of Cooperstown, died Saturday night at his home, 500 West 143d street, New York city. The funeral will be held in Cooperstown on Wednesday at 10 a. m. in the church of Our Lady of the Lake. Burial in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mr. King was born in County Cavan, Ireland, in 1842, and came with his parents to the United States in 1844. His boyhood days were spent in Cooperstown and vicinity and when a young man he was superintendent of the George Clark farms in the town of Springfield. Later he was the proprietor of the Pioneer house in this village and still later of the hotel at Cooperstown Junction. In 1892 he went to New York city where under the late Walter H. Bunn he received an appointment in an appraiser's office. Two years ago he retired. In 1867 he married Catherine McKoon, who died 11 years ago. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. James McKoon and Miss Anna King, both of New York, and one brother, Patrick King, of Cooperstown.

TELLS CAVALRY FEATS IN WAR IN PALESTINE

Yankee Officer Declares Horsemen Carried Day for Allenby in Holy Land Drive.

Cavalry won the war, at least so much of the world conflict as was fought out in Palestine, according to Lieut. Col. Edward Davis, United States army, who has just returned to Washington to present to the general staff his observations on more than six years' service with the armies of other nations.

Before the entry of the United States in the World war, and afterward, Colonel Davis served with the forces of Great Britain, France, Russia, Italy, Serbia and Greece. According to Colonel Davis, his most valuable experience was with the British cavalry during the Jerusalem campaign.

In both the Jerusalem and Damascus campaigns, Colonel Davis said, the master stroke was delivered by the cavalry. He described several of the mounted charges made by General Allenby's forces, and explained that the most striking results were attained by those swift and unexpected blows at enemy infantry and artillery groups.

"After the British had reached what looked like a stalemate on the Gazu-Beersheba line," Colonel Davis said, "it was decided to employ cavalry in a final effort to pierce the Turkish defenses. The British strategists decided cavalry could operate best against one end of the line, and a mounted squadron was sent to 'bite off' an end of the intrenchments that had resisted every effort at capture."

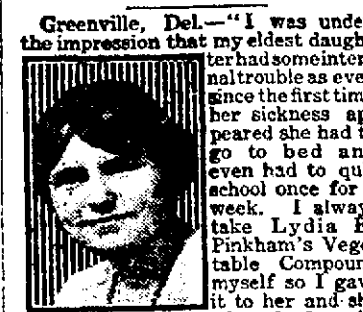

"Within an hour the cavalry had effected contact with the Turks, and then began a process that might best be described as 'rolling up' that thin line that so long had resisted every effort at assault. The operation was a complete success, and the entire line was in British control within ten hours."

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS

Read This Letter from Mrs. W. S. Hughes

Greenville, Del.—"I was under the impression that my eldest daughter had some inter-nal trouble as ever since the first time her sickness appeared she had to go to bed and even had to quit school once for a week. I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound myself so I gave it to her and she has received great benefit from it. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish, as I cannot say too much about what your medicine has done for me and my daughter. Mothers and oftentimes grandmothers have taken and have learned the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So they recommend the medicine to others. The best test of any medicine is what it has done for others. For nearly fifty years we have published letters from mothers, daughters, and women, young and old, recommending the Vegetable Compound. They know what it did for them and are glad to tell others. In your neighborhood are women who know of its great value. Mothers—daughters, why not try it?"

CAPTAIN SAM BRADY AND HIS FAMOUS LEAP

Capt. Sam Brady was a member of a fighting family which made history on the Pennsylvania border during the Indian wars after the Revolution.

Captain Brady's greatest exploit took place in Ohio. He had been captured by the Indians and carried to the Sandusky Towns, headquarters for all the Ohio tribes, where the savages prepared to burn him at the stake.

He was stripped, bound to a post and slow fires kindled around him, for the Indians hated him so much that they wished to torture him as long as possible. Brady was a powerful man and he strained at his fetters until they were loosened slightly. Then with a final effort he snapped the last bond, leaped across the barrier of flame and, seizing a squaw, pitched her into the fire.

Before the Indians could recover from their surprise, the scout escaped from the village and plunged into the woods, hotly pursued by hundreds of savages. Finally he came to the Cuyahoga river, near the present site of Kent in Portage county.

At this place the river flowed between steep, rocky banks, 22 feet across from side to side. The scout was trapped. There was no other place for miles up and down the river where he could ford it. The Indians were closing in on him and his only chance of escape was to try to leap across the chasm.

Brady could hear the savages yelling in the woods only a short distance away as he ran back toward them to get a good start. Then turning, he sped for the brink and putting all his failing strength into a final spurt, he sprang for the opposite cliff. His jump was a little short and he struck the bank a few feet below the edge. The Indians stopped in amazement, then as the scout scrambled up over the edge, they opened fire.

They wounded him in the leg, delaying his flight, and in a short time were on his heels again. He came to a lake and plunged in. Stooping beneath the broad pads of a water lily, he breathed through a hollow reed while the savages hunted in vain on the shores of the lake. They found his bloody trail to the water's edge and, believing that he had drowned rather than be captured again, gave up the chase.

Soon afterward Brady reached Fort Pitt in safety. He had many more thrilling adventures before his death on Christmas day, 1795, but his 22-foot leap across the Cuyahoga was the greatest feat of all.

The GLORIOUS FOOL

A Goldwyn Picture

Billy Grant was a fool without a doubt. He was reckless, he was thoughtless, and he had more money than was good for him. His latest drunk was almost his last. When he came to in the hospital, the doctor gave him ten minutes to live. It was then that he decided to marry his nurse. Just like a fool, you say. But rather a glorious one, as you will see.

EDITORIAL MENTION.

A gang of ten men held up a Central train near Poughkeepsie on Sunday, thinking they had the silk and money special. Instead it was sugar train, the "Million Dollar Special," having preceded it about a quarter of an hour. It was one case in which the robbers, though getting the sugar, were disappointed.

Sir Arthur Balfour, latest London dispatches state, has been offered and will accept a peerage as one of the leading statesmen of England, his elevation will be a distinct advantage to the House of Lords, which though by courtesy "the upper house," is in no sense so important a body as the American senate, nor is its vote in opposition to a measure a positive veto, such as that of the upper house
at Washington.

The death of Charles, ex-emperor of Austria, it now appears, is not likely to extinguish the flame of the royalist propaganda. Instead the former partisans of Charles turn to ex-Queen Zita, claiming that the laws of the Hapsburg succession provide for her regency until her son, Otto, is of age. So far as Austria proper is concerned, the question was finally settled by the revolution, but in Hungary, the other half of the former dual monarchy, there is reason to anticipate continued trouble.

Unhappy Erin, lately believed to be approaching the end of her troubles,
seems now to be on the verge of revolution again; and the unhappy feature is that many former partisans of Michael Collins and the Dan Egan
have swung over to the deValera faction. The only hope for peace in the island evidently was in the Free State proposition, which the British government accepted. An entirely independent country is apparently impossible. Moreover, the present situation goes far to confirm an assertion often made, that Ireland is not capable of self-government.

There is frequently expressed the hope, and in some cases the conviction that the present coal strike will be the last—that some way or another, it will be possible to set rates of wages and hours of employment that hereafter there will be no necessity for readjustment. It is possibly a bright vision, but one manifestly incapable of realization. So long as there are such varying things as supply and demand, so long will there be reason for readjustment of values, and necessarily of labor costs.
It is no more possible to fix an unvarying standard in the coal business,
than it is for potatoes, cotton cloth,
hay or clothing.

Two thousand barbers in New York
city on Sunday greeted with applause
a proposition to raise the price of hair cut to one dollar. The advancement would certainly mean the single job
more profitable, but there is a chance
it might lessen the number of cuts the ordinary customer might think necessary. As for the bald-headed man, the reporter who interviews him would probably delete
a large portion of his more emphatic remarks.

The druggists of Binghamton, or at least the less reputable of them are under suspicion at the Syracuse headquarters of the Prohibition enforcement bureau, it being claimed that in league with Volstead Act violators
they have honored fake whiskey prescriptions presented by persons who have forged the names of reputable physicians thereto. It is up to the druggists to explain, or they will lose the right to sell booze at all, a business which is believed to be fairly profitable.

SPRING CARE SAVES CLOTHES

Thorough Cleaning and Airing Necessary Before Heavy Garments are Packed Away.

"In the spring the housewife's fancy turns to storing winter clothes," she thinks of putting away the family's woollens and furs for the summer
so they will be fit to wear again next fall. Specialists in textiles at the state agricultural college at Ithaca make the following suggestions about care-
ing for woollens and furs:

Mending Comes First.

First, mend all places needing repair.

Second, dust and air the garment thoroughly by hanging it out of doors
in the bright sunlight and brushing
it well.

Third, clean the garment carefully. Remove all soiled spots or wash the article if possible. Moths attack soiled spots more quickly than other parts.

The next step is to fold the article carefully, placing rolls of paper attached to the folds. This keeps the garment from creasing badly. The garment should not be wrapped in newspaper and tied and then re-wrapped and tied the second time. Moths dislike the ink used in printing newspapers and seldom attack garments carefully wrapped in this way.
The package must be carefully laid away so that nothing will puncture
the paper.

Moth proof bags may be bought.
One of these will hold several handers. These bags are especially useful for dresses easily crushed, and for fur. Folds and plaits in garments are often basted in place before storing.

PRESS AND PUBLIC OPINION

No Special Blocs.

Thomas Jefferson, in 1809, and Daniel Webster, some years later, pointed out the need in this country
of a balanced equilibrium for agriculture, commerce and industry. Advocates of special blocs in legislative bodies would do well to read their words.—[Buffalo News.]

The "Bitter Enders."

As the rays of yesterday's declining sun filtered into the chamber of the Senate the tragic last act of a long-drawn-out drama was performed. The bitter-enders reached the bitter end in their fight against American participation in international affairs. For the sake of posterity there should be preserved a faithful picture of the inglorious finish of the little band of irreconcilables who have been playing fast and loose with our foreign relations.—[Brooklyn Eagle.]

More Light on Genoa.

At the time when the United States Senate is placing the stamp of approval upon the treaties framed at the Washington conference, the allied governments are preparing to hold a conference at Genoa under conditions which insure its failure. The Washington conference has proved a success in promoting world peace. The Genoa conference is doomed to be disastrous. A glance at the differences between these two conferences may throw some light on the world's situation.—[Washington Post.]

The Army and Navy Menace.

All the testimony of military experts goes to show that the drastic cut by the House of Representatives in the appropriations for the army must deprive the nation of reasonable protection in one quarter or another.
With an enlisted strength of only 115,000 men, either the troops for overseas duty, even including Hawaii and the Panama Canal, must be skimped to a recklessly dangerous extreme or our coast fortifications, southern border and similarly vital points must be stripped of the forces they need.
[New York Herald.]

"Listening in" at the Pole.

Prospects for Roald Amundsen's proposed visit to the North pole include the possibility of daily reports
of progress by wireless telephone;
perhaps with thousands of amateurs
"listening in." Well, the next generation may have communication with Mars left for it.—[Springfield Republican.]

Weakened Call to Battle.

News from the doughty British adventurers who are about to enter Tibet on the way to the world's highest mountain peak, which they hope to ascend this summer, is a refreshing reminder that the call of the battle field is growing steadily weaker.
[Springfield Republican.]

Making Money.

The shipping board lost only $3, 000,000 during February. It must feel like declaring a dividend.—[New York Evening Post.]

Substantial Wealth.

After all, the most substantial wealth is that accumulated by those who keep constantly after it in good hard work.—[Jamestown Journal.]

Justified.

times for the presidency is justified
in believing there is no such thing
as evolution.—[Troy Times.]

It does beat all that business should begin to boom just when the weather promises to make loading pleasant got more for the money we paid out in taxes than any other money

we spent. But that was years ago.

No Need for Thrillers.

Niagara Falls, authorities are to be congratulated for their refusal to permit a rope-walking stunt across the

at the Falls without inviting them merely for the sake of attracting a

SUCCESSFUL SHOW CLOSES

Third Annual Auto Show Closes at Armory on Saturday Evening—
Dealers and Patrons Alike Pleased With Conduct of Show.

What in the minds of dealers and patrons alike was the best Auto Show ever held in the city closed Saturday night with a record attendance. By 11 o'clock yesterday morning every car was out of the armory and the Third Annual Auto Show was a matter of history and pleasant recollection.

Despite weather conditions which were anything but favorable on any day, the attendance at the show exceeded that of last year by considerable. The majority of people were drawn by the fine display of motor vehicles but many were attracted by the entertainment provided each afternoon and evening. This was of unusually high quality and won the praise of all. Miss Josephine Lauren was very pleasing with her vocal solos and Master Maurice Reynolds gave exceptionally creditable exhibitions on the drums and traps. Bennett Springer, the conjurer, provided a feature of the highest calibre. The nightly radio concert, of which R. B. Brigham was in charge, proved of great interest to the patrons, many of whom heard a radio concert for the first time at the show. The music dispensed by Company G band and Bradford's orchestra was of their usual high quality, the cornet solos by Leader Bradford of the orchestra being especially enjoyed. The closing after the evening program was an added feature that was much appreciated.

From the standpoint of the dealers
the show was a huge success. Several cars were sold on the floor and many prospects made. The display of cars was the largest ever seen in the city and contained many machines
of rare beauty and of unique design.
An inspection of the displays was a revelation to many. The accessory department was well visited and proved to be a department of great interest to the patrons.

The show was an undoubted success and that it was much credit is due Director U. A. Ferguson, Captain L. M. Baker, the members of Company G, the armory attendants, the dealers and last but not least the patrons.

THE MOST DEPENDABLE MAN IN THE WORLD

MEMORIAL TABLET UNVEILED

IN HONOR OF JOHN BURROUGHS
AT BOYHOOD ROCK ON OLD HOMESTEAD.

Fitting Ceremonials Conducted in Presence of Three Hundred Admirers of Naturalist—Neither Firestone, Ford or Edison Present
—Grave Strawn With Flowers and Running Pine.

Roxbury, April 3. — The Homestead Farm in the Catskills where John Burroughs was born, lived and buried, today became a national memorial to him in a simple ceremony attended by several hundred of those who knew or admired the naturalist.
Trudging up the snow-covered mountain side came villagers from all along the valley, and others from various parts of the state. They assembled around the rustic fence that guards the last resting place of the naturalist, and the "Boyhood Rock"
that is his tombstone. Poems by Burroughs, and his friend, Walt Whitman, and others who wrote of nature's wonders, were read.

Then his grandchildren, Ursula and John Burroughs, unveiled a bronze memorial tablet, imbedded in the "Boyhood Rock." This tablet, the work of C. S. Paul of New York, is a bas relief copy of that sculptor's
"Summit of the Years," picturing the naturalist seated upon the "Boyhood Rock" and looking into the distance, one hand shading his eyes. It bears
these two lines from Burroughs' poem
"Wandering":

"I stand amid the eternal ways
And what is mine shall know no faith."

When the ceremony came to a close, wild flowers gathered from the fields and hills of the state nearby and as distant as California were placed upon the grave. There were juncos plucked from the resting place of Walt Whitman at Camden, N. J., and flowers grown beside the cottage at Jayolla, Cal., where Burroughs lived a year ago just before starting toward home—a trip in the midst of which he died.

Other floral tokens came from Henry Ford, who recently bought the Burroughs farm that it might be preserved as a memorial, and from Thomas A. Edison, manufacturer and inventor, for many years vacation comrades of the naturalist, who were expected to attend the service but were unable to do so.

Dr. Frank M. Chapman, president of the John Burroughs Memorial association to which Mr. Ford had deeded the homestead farm, also was unable to attend and his place on the program was taken by Dr. G. Clyde Fisher, the secretary. Ralph W. Ives of Roxbury took the place also of Miss Grace VanAmee.

Among the prominent admirers of the deceased naturalist present were
C. S. Paul, Olive Hemans, William
O. Roy of Montreal, S. Wiley, Dr.
Clara Harris, secretary of Mr. Burroughs, Dr. Walker G. Crumple of Poultney Bigelow and John Shay.
The farm was covered with a blanket of snow to the depth of six inches,
despite which the residents of Roxbury had strewn in advance the grave
of the deceased with running pine.

DON'TS FOR INCOME PAYER

A Few Suggestions of Interest and Profit to Citizens Making State Returns.

This is the first of a series of three groups of "Don'ts," furnished by the State Tax commission to assist individuals in making out their state income tax returns. The second and third will appear in this paper
Wednesday and Thursday. The information is official. Clip this article for reference.

Don't forget that the state personal income tax must be paid on or before April 15.

Don't forget to deduct from gross income interest on indebtedness or, in other words, interest on money borrowed. For example, if you purchased a home in January, 1921, for $5, 000, $3,000 of which you paid in cash and the balance, or $2,000, is being carried on first mortgage by a building and loan association or a savings bank at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, then the $300 interest (6 per cent. on $5,000) may be claimed as a deduction from gross income, provided you actually paid the amount of interest in 1921.

Don't forget that residents and non-residents use different blanks. A resident is defined as any person who has been a resident of the State at any time during the last six months of the calendar year.

Don't deduct an amount as a bad debt unless you are sure such amount is absolutely worthless and uncollectible. Amounts loaned to relatives and never returned are not treated as a bad debt. Such amounts in a sense are gifts. If you cashed a check for a person, loaned money on a note, or indorsed paper, and the person disappeared and his whereabouts is unknown, or he died, then you may claim the amount as a deduction from gross income.

Don't deduct from gross income rent paid on property used by you as your residence.

Don't deduct payments of alimony
or payments under separation agreement. A person receiving money from such sources is not required to report it as income.

Don't forget, if you are a traveling man, to deduct the entire amounts expended for meals and lodging while away from home on business. Payments for use of a sample room at a hotel for the display of goods is a business expense and may be deducted.

Houses Wanted.

three single and three double houses,
if you want to sell now is the time.

SIX STORY BUILDING PLANNED

T. J. Maxie, President of Maxie Theatre, Inc., has announced that a six-story building will be built on a portion of Wilber place, a hotel a possibility—work of excavating for theatre will start today.

A six-story, structural steel building on that portion of the plot at the corner of Main street and Ford avenue which will not be occupied by the theatre which the Maxie company is to erect, is a possibility according to a statement made by T. J. Maxie, president of Maxie Theatre, Inc. Mr. Maxie said that the building might not be built this year, but that when it was erected it would be of six stories and of the most modern, office building construction. When questioned concerning the rumor that the company had changed their plans and would erect a hotel instead of a theatre, Mr. Maxie stated that the theatre would be built as announced. He would not deny, however, that he had the hotel proposition in mind and intimated that the six-story building to be erected later might be used for that purpose.

A steam shovel of large capacity arrived on the ground yesterday and work will be started this morning excavating for the theatre building. The excavating contract has been awarded to Cutler Perry, who has had considerable experience excavating for state roads, and work will be pushed rapidly to completion. The house on the plot has not been entirely demolished, but the excavating will start at the sidewalk on the Main street side and it is expected that the house will be down and the materials carried away by the time the shovel reaches that portion of the lot.

With the excavating completed, work on the foundations will start at once. Mr. Maxie, who has had considerable experience as a contractor, will supervise the erection of the theatre himself and states that work will move along as rapidly as possible and that the building will be ready for occupancy by Fall time. The building will be erected on that portion of the lot nearest the Wilber bank and will have a Main street frontage of 52 feet and will be 150 feet deep. The theatre and two stores will occupy the first floor and there will be office suites on each of the two upper floors. Mr. Maxie states that he has had many opportunities to rent the stores. A strip of land 26 feet wide and 150 feet deep will be left on the Ford avenue side and on that it is contemplated to build a six-story structure.

Steam Shovel at Work.

Commissioner Bull of the department of public works is well pleased with the new Holt tractor received yesterday. Late in the afternoon Cutler Perry, who has brought a steam shovel to the city to make the excavation for the new building at the corner of Main street and Ford avenue, sought its aid to draw the shovel to the lot named. The tractor handled the heavy shovel handsily. Its weight is nearly five tons, the specified capacity of the tractor. It is believed that the tractor will prove valuable in the work of the department. The steam shovel proved quite a curiosity to pedestrians along the street. It will also prove to be quite an obstacle to traffic along Main street while it is being used.

Representative Clarke at Elks' Fair.
Hon. John D. Clarke of Delhi, representative in congress from this district, was an interested visitor at the Elks' fair last evening. Congressman Clarke is a member of Oneonta lodge and, although in the city on other business, he could not resist the temptation to stay over night and enjoy the hospitality of his brother "Bulls." Mr. Clarke visited over country and, as Al Jensen would put it, "There wasn't a thing that he missed."

ELKS' FAIR OPENS

Capacity of Trains and Liners
Taxed When World Tour Starts

FIRST NIGHT A HUGE SUCCESS

Fully One Thousand Persons Attend Debut of Greatest Amusement Event in History of City—Spectators of Rare Beauty, Beautiful Maidens, Merchandise of Great Value, Investments, Pleasing Entertainment, All Were Found by Elger Travelers Last Evening—One Ticket Sufficient for Entire Week.

A writer combining the imagination of Jules Verne with the word imagery of a mad scientist, or an ingenious engineer, could not have dreamed of a world tour which began last evening in the spacious new home of the order on Main street. Not having that power we'll just describe the salient features of what is perhaps the most pretentious amusement project ever held in Oneonta.

To begin with, the fair was a huge success, the attendance and receipts being far in excess of what might have been expected on the first night. Nearly 1,000 people took the World Tour, the outstanding feature of the fair, and it is safe to say that not one was disappointed at what he saw in the various countries. The guests of the fair, the various countries had been decorated in faithful imitation of scenes in the foreign lands represented and so carefully were details worked out that the illusions were well high perfect. One could almost imagine that he had been transported into lands far away and was wandering through streets of foreign capitals and visiting shops and stores.

Throughout the entire length of the tour, from sunny California to Cuba, no opportunity was afforded the traveler to lose his enthusiasm or become weary. Entertainment and refreshment was offered at every hand and an opportunity was given in every country to purchase unique and hand-made articles at very reasonable prices. Voyagers were not coerced and equaled into buying, however, and everyone was made welcome whether or not he wished to purchase anything. The object was to give everyone as good a time as possible and that object was surely attained. A dollar's worth of enjoyment was to be had in every hour of the more seeking and less failed to take full advantage of their opportunities.

At 5:30 o'clock the fair got under way with the serving of a tasteful luncheon in the terminal dining room on the second floor. Under the supervision of P. P. Gallagher, a satisfying repast had been prepared and until nearly 8 o'clock the tables were well filled with diners. All round the meal of excellent quality and very well served. Promptly at 6 o'clock the first train started from the Elks' terminal. The first few trains were poorly patronized but things soon speeded up and ere long the transcontinental limited was crowded on every trip.

A detailed discussion of each feature of the tour which took the travelers through many foreign lands would take columns of space and would then fall to do justice to the subject. Suffice it now simply to outline the main features of the trip, leaving a more comprehensive discussion of each country for later issues. The tour starts from the Elks' terminal, a faithful reproduction of a great metropolitan station, with every detail carefully worked out. The transcontinental trip is made in a train having all the appointments of the real article, California, the land of sunshine and flowers, is the first stop. From California the voyager goes by steamship a boat which must be seen to be appreciated. To Hawaii where he is taken in tow by Hula Hula maidens in grass skirts and shown the sights of that picturesque land. The beach at Kailua is faithfully reproduced. The next stop is Treasure Island, where Captain Jack holds sway. Budd treasure apenty awaits the traveler there.

Japan and Italy are next visited, both countries of marvelous beauty and well stocked with handsome articles. Then comes Turkey, where a marvelous display of oriental rugs and lamps can be seen. The Sultan's harem here is worth a dollar alone. Holland is the next stop and Holland at her best. The way then leads to La Bella France, where accumulated thrills can be quenched in the famous Cafe de la Paix, Spain and the famous bull ring are next. Many surprises await the traveler in that land. Maybe you'll visit the bull ring and maybe you won't—it all depends.

And then Cuba, the Mecca of the entire trip. Words fail to describe the attractions, in that snug island. Laterally everything can be found in Cuba. The Cuban Fire, discourses music at intervals during the evening and there are cabaret features. Last evening Edward G. Tilley gave a highly meritorious ballroom sketch. There will be added features tonight.

The dance hall adjoins Cuba and from 8 to 12, dancing is in order. The Cuban F. V. provide here also. Highest music is none too good for that musical organization, all being more than pleased with their selections. The following musical wizard compose the orchestra: Nate Pendleton, drums, Knappe, saxophone, Dizzie Lawson, violin, Cy Tourlet, piano; and Neil Baker, saxophone.

Success sums up the first night. The countries were faithfully reproduced, the entertainments, the food, the music, the organization, all being more than pleased with their selections. The following musical wizard compose the orchestra: Nate Pendleton, drums, Knappe, saxophone, Dizzie Lawson, violin, Cy Tourlet, piano; and Neil Baker, saxophone.

FORM BATTERY COMPANY

W. O. BRANNAMAN, CHOSEN PRESIDENT AND E. W. ELMORE, VICE PRESIDENT

Company Incorporated With $250,000 Capital Stock to Engage in the Manufacture and Sale of Oneonta Storage Batteries—E. W. Elmore and Daniel Franklin Become Interested in Project.

At a recent meeting of the men who are interested in the Oneonta Storage Battery company officers and directors were chosen for the first year: President—W. O. Brannaman, Vice-Pres.—E. W. Elmore, Sec and Treas.—C. P. Shelland, Additional Directors—A. A. Hobbs, J. J. Bookhout, Daniel Franklin and H. V. Andrews.

Articles of incorporation have been prepared and forwarded to Albany and doubtless will be approved at once. The company is incorporated for $250,000 capital stock and it will proceed with the plans for the erection of a factory building and the development of the Oneonta battery, using the Hobbs electrolyte, in the development of which A. A. Hobbs and A. V. Andrews, the two gentlemen who recently came to Oneonta from Los Angeles, Cal., have been actively interested for several years. This is the electrolyte which was recently tried out in the electric car of D. W. Elmore, giving results which the gentlemen named consider very gratifying and more than substantiate the claims of Mr. Hobbs.

It has been practically decided to proceed with the erection of a building to be 100 by 120 feet and two stories high on the vacant lot owned by the Elmore Milling company, on the north side of Niagara place, along the first lot across the bridge from River street. This will give the company a location on the side track of the Milling company, permitting the shipment in and out of loaded lots from the factory.

Detailed plans for the building now projected on this site are in preparation and it is hoped that the building will be a reality and the manufacture of the improved batteries of greater size and strength be commenced at an early date.

E. W. Elmore who has become interested in the project since the test of the new electrolyte is planning to increase his electric generating plant by the addition of another water wheel at the Milling plant which will permit him to furnish the electric power necessary to operate the factory of the new company.

DR. ROBINSON'S FUNERAL

Will Be Held Thursday Afternoon in Delhi Presbyterian Church—Son and Grandson to Be Present.

Delhi, April 3. — The funeral of Rev. Dr. James H. Robinson will not be held until Thursday afternoon on account of his grandson, Rev. Stewart Robinson, of Lockport, being detained by prior engagements. It will be held at 2 p. m. in the Presbyterian church; interment in Woodland cemetery.

Dine Present and Former Oneontans.

A postal card received yesterday by A. E. Ford from Long Beach, Cal., contains the autographs of sixteen former and present residents of Oneonta, who were guests at a dinner given March 21, at the Hotel Virginia, in the former city, by Mr. and Mrs. George E. Baird. The guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Place, Robert Place, Frances Place, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton VanSteenbergh, formerly of "our town," and Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Whipple and Hon. and Mrs. Charles Smith, who are present residents. That the reunion was a delightful one goes without saying; and Mr. and Mrs. Baird are to be congratulated on the happy thought of getting together so congenial a party.

SINGING AND RECREATION

Two-Day School for Leaders Arranged for Wednesday and Thursday in Oneonta and Cooperstown.

A two-day school for leaders in community singing and recreation work has been arranged for organizations and schools of Otsego county, beginning with sessions tomorrow morning and afternoon in Municipal hall, in place of the original one-day program, according to announcement made by Ralph Q. Smith, county club agent of the Farm Bureau.

C. W. Whitney, a popular and interesting leader from Cornell university, has been secured to give the instruction, which all men and women in the county interested in leading community or group singing are urged to take advantage of.

Wednesday's training classes in Oneonta begin at 9:30 o'clock in the morning, the afternoon session commencing at 1:30 o'clock. Because of the Elks' Fair, the evening session will be held in the Knox school gymnasium, Cooperstown, when a general community sing will be conducted. On Thursday two more training classes will be held in Cooperstown at the Chamber of Commerce building, at the same hours as the Wednesday meetings in Oneonta.

DEATHS.

Mrs. E. J. Kingsley.

Mrs. E. J. Kingsley of 13 Brook street passed away at about 5 o'clock last evening at the family home after a long illness, aged 63 years and 6 months. The funeral services will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Dr. E. M. Johns of the First Methodist church will officiate and the body will be placed in the vault at the Plains and later, when the roads are better, will be taken to Jefferson, her old home for interment.

Her maiden name was Enilia Moxley and she was a native and long time resident of Jefferson. She had been a resident of Oneonta for about nine years. She was twice married, her second husband being Edwin J. Kingsley, whom she married about three years ago. Her only daughter, by her first husband, died about five years ago. The husband and one brother, Anson Moxley, of Grinnell, Iowa, are her only near surviving relatives. She was a member of the Methodist church at Jefferson. It is expected that Royal Rebekeah lodge will attend the funeral.

Vosburg-Cortright Wedding.

Arthur Vosburg and Miss Lula Mae Cortright, both of this city, were united in marriage at the parsonage of the First Methodist church Saturday evening at 7 o'clock by Rev. Dr. B. A. Johns. The couple were attended by Mrs. Harold Gorton and Irving Whitmarsh. Mr. Vosburg is a sheet metal worker, and they will reside in Oneonta.

Native of Schuyler Lake.

Lucius P. Judd, a native of Schuyler Lake, died March 20 at his home in Salt Lake City. At an earlier date his home was in Nebraska, where he was a member of the state legislature. Among his surviving relatives are Mrs. S. J. Downs and O. J. Judd of Richfield Springs.

Death of an Infant.

Clifford Robert, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brightman of 46 Main street, died at the home of Mrs. Sarah Andrews, 22 Columbia street, at 11 o'clock last evening. Notice of the funeral arrangements will appear in Wednesday's Star.

GAS WORKS BRIDGE BIDS

Three Bids Received by Board of Public Works Last Night — Award Will Probably Be Made at Next Meeting — Pay for Labor Considered.

Three bids were received last night by the board of public works for the bridge over the mill race on Gas avenue, coming from the following firms: James McKinney & Sons of Albany, Ira Silliman company of this city, and from the Lackawanna Bridge Works corporation of Buffalo. All of them complied with the specifications given but until Engineer Gurney has gone over them carefully he will be unable to advise which proposes the best bridge for the money. It is understood that the cheaper bridge is submitted by the last named bidder. Action on the bids will probably be taken at the next meeting, when it is expected Chairman Hoyt, who was ill last night and unable to attend, will be present.

The board rejected the bid of Fred DeAngelo for the construction of the concrete walks for the city during the current fiscal year and decided to construct its own walks under the supervision of the city engineer, provided the common council concur in such decision.

In the matter of a contract for the right of way over private property for the detour on Lower Chestnut street pending the completion of the paving job in that section, the chairman of the board was authorized to execute the contract when approved by City Attorney Gibbs and City Engineer Gurney.

Petitions for sidewalks on the northerly side of a portion of Hudson street and the southerly side of a portion of the same street were presented. Action will be taken at a later date. Delegations from Cleveland and Kearney streets appeared before the commission and requested that the walks formerly petitioned for be laid at an early date. No action was taken.

A petition that Maple street be oiled this season was acted upon favorably. Hon. George L. Bookes appeared and requested that the commission take action requiring Eva Munson to correct the alleged faulty construction of her sign over the walk. A resolution was passed directing that the sign be made safe.

The board discussed informally the question of the wages to be paid laborers on the streets during the current year, but without action. They were paid last year 40 cents an hour for eight hours, while it was stated that some are securing help at 30 and 35 cents an hour. Commissioners speaking thought that good men should be able to earn 40 cents and that the city should pay men what they are worth.

BODY OF RECLUSE FOUND

BERT CHASE OF GILBERTSVILLE HAD BEEN DEAD FOR DAYS.

Lived Alone in Small Home on Otsego Road for Years — Body Found by Neighbor Who Having Seen Nothing of Chase for Days Makes an Investigation — Deceased Had No Near Relatives.

Gilbertsville, April 3.— This morning while passing the small one-room house of Bert Chase on the Otsego road, about three miles from this village, Lewis Coon, a neighbor, who had seen nothing of Chase for several days stopped to investigate, and on glancing inside through a window, saw the body of Chase lying on the floor, face downward. Forcing an entrance, Coon discovered that the man was dead and Dr. C. P. Fox of this village who was called said the man had probably been dead since Tuesday or Wednesday when he was last seen. There is no suspicion of anything other than a natural death. Chase was a bachelor and had lived alone for years. Coroner Getman is expected to visit the home Tuesday morning to investigate and sign the death certificate.

There were no tracks in the snow around the house since the last fall, and while his poultry were found to be in good condition, they ate eagerly when fed, as soon as the conditions were ascertained. It wasn't known that Chase had been ailing and Mr. Coon had thought him usually well when last seen.

Chase had lived on the small place for years and was devoted to the raising of berries and other small fruits, which he cultivated successfully. He was severely burned about five years ago when a small house on the place burned during the night-time. He managed to escape from the house and reached a neighbor's partially clad and in his bare feet. Dr. Fox attended him at the time and brought him through successfully.

He built a small house about 8 by 16 feet upon the ruins of the former home and lived there alone. Little is known of his early life. His nearest surviving relatives are a niece, Mrs. Lottie Rowe of Maple Grove and a nephew, Burdette Barber of Butter-nuts, who will arrange for the funeral and interment.

CONGRESSMAN CLARKE HERE

Supports Government for Majority and Not for Any Minority.

Congressman John D. Clarke, who was granted a few days absence from the house to attend to his spring planting at the farm near Delhi, and who addressed the Men's Forum in Binghamton on Sunday evening, was in Oneonta yesterday and last night, the guest of Postmaster Frank G. Sherman. He had hoped to get one day of trout fishing with Mr. Sherman, but the weatherman has blasted his hopes in that respect. He will after spending a few days at the farm, return to Washington.

The following from the published report of his address before the Forum will be read with interest:

Representative Clarke declared that the country is being organized by factions, political, semi-political, educational, wet and dry, organized industry and labor. All of which advocate some particular measure and none of them with a national perspective. He told how candidates for office are questioned by representatives of various factions and their pledge sought for the support of their particular measures. If the candidate refuses his support, he is opposed politically. Those who are susceptible are pledged, he said, to new laws, while the country is already burdened with an overdose of "half-baked" legislation.

After telling how paid representatives of these organizations with elaborately equipped offices at Washington, often send home narrow and vicious reports, he said: "We have been drifting from the meaning of a true republic, and from the great moral foundation we inherit. Our ultimate destiny if present efforts are continued is a multitude of conflicting laws and government by the minority rather than the majority. I may be old-fashioned but I believe that responsibility develops character, that the old Biblical doctrines of work-out our salvation is the true way rather than leaning upon legislation and the federal government."

I will pay for all No. 1 muskrats received on or before Thursday of this week $2.00. Damaged furs at their value. Be sure and get your furs in while you can get these prices. D. E. Robinson, Oneonta, N. Y. Adv. 1t.

In the spring a woman's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of clothes.

In going over your spring wardrobe remember that dry cleaning will make your old clothes look like new. You may find dresses and blouses which, while in perfect condition, are eye-sores because of frequent use. It will hardly be economy to discard such garments yet a dry cleaning will renew them.

DON'T HOLD LINE TOO LONG

Otherwise the Telephone Company May Establish a Five Minute Rate.

Accompanying the bills sent out Monday by the Otsego & Delaware Telephone company was a little green slip, calling the attention of subscribers to the fact that subscribers had recently been complaining that other users of party lines not infrequently hold the wire for lengthy conversations, and sometimes not giving up when requested for very urgent reasons to do so. The company sends out the little slip with the belief that when once it is brought to attention conditions will improve without the necessity of a ruling whereby conversations must be limited to five minutes.

A record kept by the company for its own information revealed cases where connections had been maintained continuously for two hours, while it is not unusual for conversations to last from thirty minutes to an hour. Such use of the line, the company states, not only debars other subscribers on the same line from using the service, but also makes incoming calls for all parties on both lines impossible.

The courteous note from the company will no doubt receive due attention from subscribers. The telephone is a public convenience, and ordinarily there is little reason for prolonging use of the line which may seriously inconvenience others for whom immediate use of the wire may be an actual necessity.

ECONOMY WAVE FELT IN ARMY

Soldiers More Careful in Regard to Equipment.

CULTIVATE THRIFT HABIT

Reduced Appropriations Forces Army to Apply Economies All Along the Line—Doughboys Compelled to Keep Strict Watch on Their Shoes—Savings Also Being Effected in Clothing—Days of War-Time Spending Are Over.

The time was when, in popular fancy, no good soldier ever looked at his heels. That belief, fostered by countless jokesmiths, is due to be rudely shattered when the doughboys of the present army offer their testimony, according to officials of the war department. The good soldier of the present day is giving careful attention to not only his shoes, heels and soles, but to every item of his equipment, they declare—and all because of the wave of economy that has swept over the military arm of the service.

In its effort to live within the reduced appropriations granted by the present congress, the army has been forced to apply economies all along the line, and the thrift habit is being impressed on the rank and file in a manner calculated to leave an abiding impression.

More Care for Shoes.
Some saving soul suggested that the item of shoes was one that might be easily subjected to a little pruning. The doughboys were scuffling out their sole leathers at a rate that threatened to prove ruinous, he demonstrated, and it was suggested that the man behind the gun be made personally responsible for the state of his footwear. The suggestion was adopted, and as translated to the rank and file it runs about as follows:

Privates will see that their shoe soles are in good order—that they are turned in for replacement at the first sign of a hole in the outer layer of leather. And they will make this shoe inspection every day, on penalty of having to pay themselves for any replacements where the old shoe turned in to the quartermaster's department is too greatly worn to permit its repair.

Savings on Clothing.
In the matter of clothing, too, the war department is effecting savings wherever possible. When a private or "noncom" takes his best girl to the movies he is clad in his Sunday best, the suit he wears only at inspection and when on pass. In his other waking hours he is uniformed in khaki that has seen better days, but still is serviceable for drills and camp routine. Careful inspections of salvaged clothing are made by the inspector general to the end that no uniform be scrapped while there yet is a minimum of service in it.

Economies in clothing, however, are merely straws to show how the wind is blowing in the army. The effort to make congress dollars go as far as possible is apparent all along the line, and even the rawest of recruits is aware that thrift is regarded as a cardinal virtue in the army.

No Sightseeing Tours.
That is impressed on him as soon as he enlists, for where it once was possible to join the colors in one part of the country and be assigned to duty with some remote organization, getting a splendid opportunity to "see America first" at the present expense of the War department, things work out quite differently now. Recruits are assigned to organizations nearest the stations where they enlist, and the days of free sightseeing tours are over. War department officials assert. This transportation taboo is fast becoming all-inclusive, according to army officers. In times past when a regiment was transferred to another post, the transfer was accompanied by entertaining the men and their impedimenta and setting them down in their new home, bag and baggage. Under the new scheme of things, the transfer of a regiment involves no such expenditure of time and money. Only the colors of the outfits to be transferred are sent on to the new post, the men being assigned to some other organization near by.

Special Instance Cited.
An instance of this is to be found in the recent transfer of the 19th infantry regiment from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast. The colors of the 19th were sent to San Francisco—and by boat instead of train, to save expense—the men of the old 19th were transferred to the 25th infantry regiment near by, and the new regiment on the Pacific coast was filled by members of the 32d infantry, who had been put on the inactive list, at the Presidio. Even the colonel of the 32d infantry became the commander of the "transferred" 19th.

When transfers of units are to be made at lesser distances they are accomplished by hiking. The men shoulder their full impost of equipment, the accompanying baggage trains are loaded, the command to march is given.

London's Styles

England is setting the styles for the army's footwear for this summer. They run to buckles, straps and sandals lined in cut out designs of black patent leather and white kid, as these pictures just received from London show.

en and the outfit is on its way to its new post.

San on Individual Transfers.
Another evidence of the army's effort to cut its cost of expenses according to the cloth appropriated is to be found in a new sentence that is beginning to appear in the general orders of the chief of staff. That sentence reads: "No expense will be incurred by the government in connection with the change herein directed." Interpreted by officials of the War department, it means that no individual transfers are being made except at the expense of the individual involved.

Indeed, army travel has been reduced to a minimum, even on official business. Where an officer is sent from any department on an inspection trip he is charged with the performance of any duties in connection therewith that may concern other departments of the service, and the travel expenses of several men thereby are saved.

Economy has become the army's watchword, and the days of war-time spending are over.

Violates Traffic Laws.
"While returning to camp one night I walked right into a herd of elephants," states a well known explorer in his memoirs. We have always maintained that all wild animals above the size of a rabbit should carry two head lights and one rear light while traveling after dark.—London Punch.

Curious Masterpieces.
Literary masterpieces have been written on strange mediums. Smart's poem, "Song to David," was written with a key on the walls of a madhouse. Coleridge once wrote a sonnet on a scrap of seaweed.

INGRAM LODGE DESTROYED

Fine Summer Home in Adirondacks of L. T. Ingram, Former Oneonta, Burned to the Ground Last Week.

Lawrence T. Ingram, formerly sales manager with the Elmore Milling Company in this city, but now managing the Gorsuch slate quarries at Peach Bottom, Pa., stopped in the city Sunday enroute home from a fishing trip to the Adirondacks, and will stay over to attend the opening of the Elks' fair tonight, as he is a member of the local lodge.

Mr. Ingram received a wire last Monday afternoon that Ingram Lodge, his fine summer home in the Adirondacks, near Faust, had been burned to the ground that morning. As soon as business duties would permit, he left for the north and found the destruction was practically complete. The caretaker discovered the fire shortly after breakfast and while he did all that was possible to prevent it from spreading, it soon was beyond his control and the large stucco-covered building, with all its contents, was destroyed. The boat house, Steam, rowboats and ice house were not damaged. Although Mr. Ingram carried insurance on the property, it will only partially cover the loss.

Mr. Ingram stated that plans for rebuilding are under consideration. He has arranged to renovate a small camp building on adjacent property which will be fitted up comfortably and occupied by Mrs. Ingram and her friends this coming summer. News of the destruction came as quite a shock to the Ingrams, as Mr. Ingram had but recently returned to Peach Bottom after spending a few days at the camp to arrange for a new caretaker to take the place of the man whom he had left in charge of the place last November but who later died.

William found a pocketbook But the string jerked it back

It looked like a happy discovery as it lay there on the sidewalk—until the discoverer reached to pick it up. Then the hidden string jerked it away. All William got was disappointment.

That's the way a good many people have found it to be with the comfort and cheer they thought they had secured in tea and coffee. When they came to depend on it—there was a hidden string, and nothing left but disappointment.

The drug, caffeine, in tea and coffee, is a nerve stimulant. Constant stimulation of the nerves often produces rebellion that takes the form of sleeplessness, headaches, irritability, high blood pressure. That's the string to tea and coffee.

Postum, that wholesome and delightful cereal beverage, is completely satisfying and there's no harmful quality whatsoever, to jerk away the comfort which you find in this splendid table drink. Any member of the family may enjoy Postum with any meal—and there will be no after-regrets.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by grocers.
